

Midweek Music

Autumn 2020 – Online series

Although no live music performances are open to the public, the Choir of Royal Holloway will be presenting their lunchtime concert series, Midweek Music, which will be available online every Wednesday during term time at 1:15pm.

Programmes will be a mix of new and archive recordings, live streamed performances, as well as a chance to meet the choir, and have a look behind-the-scenes. You will be able to hear this year's choir, their upcoming projects, and how the choir is defying the odds by continuing to bring amazing music to life.

Visit www.chapelchoir.co.uk to find out more and to watch the choir in action. All concerts are free, and will be available to watch afterwards.
